דוגמה לחיבור (ברמה מעניקה פטור)

Topic 1:

Israel has yet to reach a satisfactory consensus in regard to its immigration policy. One of the concerns among Israeli citizens and policy makers is the wave of crime attributed to some of the people who seek asylum in our country. I am not familiar with the accuracy of these statistics. However, I do believe that it is Israel's responsibility to provide refuge for these people, in a way that helps prevent crime and thereby protects our citizens. How would we do this? First, we would assist these asylum seekers in finding jobs. Many of them do not have work permits, making their only resort crime or begging. In addition, we would offer them Hebrew instruction so they can integrate into society. We also would make sure that they receive proper medical care, thereby making it possible for them to be employed. A few organizations are working to help with these and other endeavors, but this is not enough. A full scale government effort needs to take place. It is time we stop complaining about the crime these people bring, and instead provide them the incentive and resources to make an honorable life here.
